PERSONAL RECORD QUESTIONNAIRE

PART II

36. CARBOHYDRATE

37. A perusal of the Rear files indicates that CARBOHYDRATE was first contacted circa May of 1948, and there is a Military Government Fragebogen apparently prepared around March of 1948. The first document to contain any specific detailed information on CARBOHYDRATE is FRQ Part I, prepared by [] , and forwarded in MGBA 3960 (14 May 1949). Further information contained in subsequent dispatches (notably MGBA 7699 (10 Jan 51) and MQOW 13873 (24 Apr 52)) simply corroborates the fact that CARBOHYDRATE has been active on our behalf since May of 1948.
38. No problem can be foreseen in turning him over to any German-speaking case officer.
39. By virtue of his education, CARBOHYDRATE is opposed to the Communist regime in the East Zone of Germany, where he resided until January 1953. He further appears to owe us a considerable degree of loyalty, having enjoyed our financial and material support since May of 1948, and it was upon our specific request that he went to the East Berlin police when the unified Berlin police was divided into two separate groups. To no small extent CARBOHYDRATE's motivation is based upon his financial dependence directly to KUBARK, via BOB, and indirectly through CADROIT.
40. All agencies in Berlin, EUGOM, ODOPAL, COM (MGBA 9806), have been checked and no derogatory information has been forthcoming. BDC check was negative. When he departed from East Berlin to resettle in the West, he submitted to the normal rigid refugee screening at our specific request. During the course of his processing, he was interviewed by representatives of other allied agencies, and submitted that he had been employed by CADROIT during the period he was active in the East Berlin police. No derogatory information was subsequently forwarded to CADROIT by any of these screening agencies.
41. CARBOHYDRATE has been in our employ since May of 1948 and is presently heavily dependent upon BOB for rental allowances and other evidences of continued support, such as occasional supplies, gifts and even additional monetary subsidies when the occasion warrants. To a lesser degree there does exist a certain ideological control, but the material facet of his loyalty to us is predominant. He also knows full well that he would have a difficult time obtaining a new position in West Berlin or West Germany if we were to black-list him with the authorities.
42. Subject knows that he is working for an unidentified intelligence organization which has its headquarters in Washington. He may be inclined to believe that we are affiliated with ODOPAL.

43. As far as is known, CARBOHYDRATE has not been nor is presently in the service of any other intelligence agency.
44. He is presently the security officer of CADROIT and has furnished valuable information relating to the methods of improving the security of that organization. He is further charged with the responsibility for channeling RIS/SSD leads into the CASTABIA program.
45. Viz. item 44.
46. No.
47. Through visitors and staff employees at CADROIT.
48. Subject receives 700 DM (West) monthly salary from CADROIT, and a 100 DM (West) rental subsidy together with 25 DM (West) allowance for his dog. Approximately $5.00 worth of operational supplies are provided him per month.
49. CARBOHYDRATE has not been directly promised any additional support but is aware of an implicit moral obligation on our part to resettle him and his family in West Germany when and if he should be required to leave Berlin.
50. No.
51. Comes from a family of upper middle-class standing. His father was a physician under civil service, and was able to provide his son with a good education. Given CARBOHYDRATE's present salary and subsidies, his standard of living could be classified equal to that of a middle-class German family.
52. CARBOHYDRATE is most interested in sports, especially soccer and ping-pong. Concerning his personal habits less information is known, but in his discussions with various case officers, it has come out that he drinks and smokes moderately, cannot afford the luxury of a mistress, and probably would not do so even if he could. The only form of gambling in which we know that he indulges is the weekly TOTC pool, based upon the outcome of a given number of soccer matches and involving individual participation in the amount of 2 DM (West).
53. Subject appears to be basically honest. He is an apprentice-lawyer (Assessor) by profession and possesses many of the characteristics of the typical German civil servant (Beamte). He comprehends the meaning of security and so far we have nothing derogatory to report in this respect. He is reliable, carries out our instructions, and is amenable to direction from the case officers.
54. As previously stressed, CARBOHYDRATE is materialistically inclined. If he were to be approached by representatives of another intelligence service, he would probably report such an action to us, telling us what he had been offered and in turn expecting a similar offer from us. However, we doubt sincerely that he would sell out even if offered double his present salary, and it is within the realm of possibility that he would continue to work for us even if he received a position with a West German agency, such as the Verfassungsschutz.

- 55. Subject is well informed and intelligent. He would quite probably do well at almost any position assigned to him, given the requisite amount of guidance and control.
- 56. Samples of his handwriting and photographs have been submitted on previous occasions.
- 57. Unknown to present case officer.
- 58. None.
